

Plymouth Pipeline

New Morning concert

Looking for a unique opportunity for some rockin' family fun? On Saturday, Oct. 13, the D'Art Band will headline a live 7 p.m. concert at New Morning School in Plymouth.

The event is open to everyone in the local Plymouth-Canton community, with a suggested donation of $4 per person to benefit New Morning School. Refreshments will be provided.

D'Art Band is a Plymouth-based group that includes current and alumni parents of New Morning School. Band members include lead guitarist Waldon Reed, Jr., who has been teaching aspiring guitar students for over twenty years. His wife, Celeste, a Dearborn music teacher, also performs with D'Art Band. The show will feature a very special guest appearance by former New Morning School music teacher and popular Detroit-area trombonist Bugs Beddow.

"The concert is a fitting way to help celebrate New Morning School's 35th year," explains D'Art drummer Jerry Teevens. "New Morning School is about family and community, and so is this concert." Teevens' son and daughter currently attend New Morning School. Vocalist Jane Renwick-Fry, keyboardist Craig Fry, and guitarist Pete Celano complete the six-piece ensemble.

For more information, visit the school's Web site at www.newmorningschool.com or call (734) 420-3331.

Originally published September 23, 2007